

AutomationFlex
by Assurity

Enterprise-wide test automation on demand.

Testing teams today face immense pressure to deliver faster releases with broader coverage but are frequently hindered by fragmented tooling, limited automation, and rising infrastructure costs.

AutomationFlex changes the equation. Delivered securely via the Assurity Cloud, we provide scalable test automation that enables rapid execution and continuous quality assurance. You get enterprise grade automation without the financial and operational overhead of managing internal tools, environments, or software licences.

The business outcomes: Why IT leaders choose AutomationFlex

- Surface business relevance: through quality dashboards, surfacing functional performance, test coverage, all through business-relevant language – don't leave automation as a techie or tick-box deliverable
- Reduce testing costs: By operating on a pay per use model, you eliminate the need for internal infrastructure, licensing, and excessive manual effort.
- Faster, more reliable releases: Improve test coverage, catch defects earlier, and significantly reduce rework. Integration into your delivery pipelines ensures maintainable assets accelerate your deployments.
- On demand scalability: Instantly trigger automated tests when and where they are needed, ranging from targeted checks to full regression suites, without dealing with fixed overheads.
- Maximum long-term return on investment: Your automation suites are highly portable and designed to be reused across various test phases, environments, and even for post release monitoring.

How we deliver: Strategic, not just tactical

- Continuous delivery integration: We provide test pipelines and code repositories as a managed service, enabling continuous test execution without the headache of managing test infrastructure.
- Business readable test development: We use plain language frameworks to create tests, enabling strong collaboration between technical teams and business stakeholders.
- AI powered automation workflows: We wrap our services in an advanced Artificial Intelligence layer featuring script acceleration, self-healing UI tests, and agentic automation workflows to rapidly adapt to changes in your digital ecosystem.
- Flexible engagement models: Whether you need instant pay per use access, project-based delivery to accelerate a specific phase, or a fully managed service, we tailor our approach to your operational needs.

Proven success at enterprise scale

Inland Revenue (IR): Assurity revolutionised the testing approach to evaluate multiple parallel party systems. Automated regression tests that previously required fifteen manual person days now take just six hours.

Enable Fibre Broadband: We took the headaches out of their ERP upgrade by automating twenty transactional, repeatable tests. Testing time was reduced from two weeks to just three days, with a full return on investment expected in under three years.

New Zealand Qualifications Authority (NZQA): We helped confidently manage high stakes national exams by evaluating complex, intertwined systems and providing real time insights for public screens.

“This is just a starting point. As we continue figuring out the full capability of AutomationFlex, there will be additional capacity for automation.”

— Richard Swift, Finance Systems Manager, Enable
